

The Perfect Mile: Three Athletes, One Goal and Less Than Four Minutes to Achieve It

Movie rights optioned by Universal, Spyglass, and Kennedy-Marshall There was a time when running the mile in four minutes was believed to be beyond the limits of humans. And in all of sport it was the elusive holy grail. In 1952, after suffering defeat at the Helsinki Olympics, three world-class runners set out individually to break this formidable barrier: a young English medical student, the privileged son of a genteel Australian family, and a Kansas farm boy. This breathtaking story of a three-way race of body, heart and soul is a lasting portrait of the twilight of the golden age of sport.

My curiosity got the best of me the other day and I gave in by watching one of those "End of the World" conspiracies videos. This time around the date is set for July 29, 2016. So in three days the biblical prophecies will come true and we will be swallowed up by hell fire while the others who are "saved" will rejoice in the heavens.
