

Crawling Out: One Womans Journey to an Empowered Life After Breaking a Cycle of Abuse No One Should Have to Endure

How does a child know what is acceptable or unacceptable? Normal or abnormal? Good or bad? That children aren't slaves or women aren't beaten? How do they get out of something they don't know they're in? Crawling Out is a true account of the life of a child raised within a dysfunctional family filled with abuse, domestic violence, and alcoholism that continued well into her adult life. Author Casey Morley has spent the last twenty-five years coping with and crawling out from abuse, working hard to break the cycle to end generations of dysfunction and give her son a chance. Her story chronicles some of the abuse and follows her as she deletes what she was taught and fights to shed fifty-plus years of shame and guilt that weren't hers to carry. Often dismissed and devalued as a child, Casey defied the odds and overcame a deep sense of worthlessness, unmasked the secrecy many victims carry, and learned to forgive. Through each struggle, you'll endure Casey's pain, admire her strength and courage, and feel her mother's love as she fought to make life better for her son. Her story seeks to awaken you to the truth about children robbed of their innocence and the toll abuse takes on their lives, often setting them up to repeat history. With awareness as a society, we have the ability to end domestic violence. Crawling Out is that first step.

My curiosity got the best of me the other day and I gave in by watching one of those "End of the World" conspiracies videos. This time around the date is set for July 29, 2016. So in three days the biblical prophecies will come true and we will be swallowed up by hell fire while the others who are "saved" will rejoice in the heavens.
