

Tribute of the Massachusetts Historical Society, to the Memory of Edward Everett, January 30, 1865 (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Tribute of the Massachusetts Historical Society, to the Memory of Edward Everett, January 30, 1865A Special Meeting of the Massachusetts Historical Society was held in the Dowse Library on Monday evening, January 30, 1865, to commemorate their late illustrious associate, Edward Everett. The attendance was very large. The meeting was called to order at 7 o'clock by the President, the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, who spoke as follows: -Gentlemen of the Massachusetts Historical Society: The occasion of this meeting is but too well known to you all. None of us were strangers to the grief which pervaded this community on the recent announcement of the death of Edward Everett. Not a few of us have had the privilege of uniting with the public authorities, who hastened to assume the whole charge of his funeral, in paying the last tribute to his honored remains. And more than one of us have already had an opportunity of giving some feeble expression to our sense of the loss which has been sustained by our city, our Commonwealth, and our whole country.
