

A Climbers Guide to the Seward Highway South of Anchorage

This was the first rock climbing guide that covered climbing in the Anchorage area. Prior to the first publication in April 1987 information on crag locations and routes was passed by word of mouth. Rik Derrick, local hardman and climbing historian, provided information on most of the routes covered in the guide. Paul Denkwalter, proprietor of the only real climbing shop in Anchorage, Alaska Mountaineering and Hiking, sponsored the original printing and acted as editor. I wrote the text and sketched the crags. Although some crags have been removed by road construction, most are still popular spots for locals and visitors. Proceeds from sale of this guide will go to a few beers and what remains will be donated to the Access Fund.- Rich McManus

My curiosity got the best of me the other day and I gave in by watching one of those "End of the World" conspiracies videos. This time around the date is set for July 29, 2016. So in three days the biblical prophecies will come true and we will be swallowed up by hell fire while the others who are "saved" will rejoice in the heavens.
