

Are You Dreaming?: Mystical Electronica That Echoes the Tribal Heartbeat

With each appearance before packed audiences, One at Last crackles with positive mystical energy that springs from their trailblazing combination of traditional and electronic music. Now the techno-tribal sound of this enchanting kirtan band—who have opened for Michael Franti and who brought down the house at the Burning Man festival—has been exquisitely captured on this state-of-the-art recording, Are You Dreaming? Front woman Jaya Lakshmi leads the group with a cosmic, otherworldly elegance and a powerful connection to the art of sacred chant. Weaving together the modern and the ancient with a seamless fusion of electronica, traditional instruments, and devotional lyrics, the group creates a musical space where traditions and voices from around the world become one at last. With lyrics in many languages (including English and Sanskrit) inspired by musical and spiritual traditions from all over the world, One at Last creates a true sound of cultural unity that is timeless, accessible, and infinitely danceable.

My curiosity got the best of me the other day and I gave in by watching one of those "End of the World" conspiracies videos. This time around the date is set for July 29, 2016. So in three days the biblical prophecies will come true and we will be swallowed up by hell fire while the others who are "saved" will rejoice in the heavens.
