

GET A CLUE! Why Relationships Dont Work

Relationship experts tell us that most marriages are likely to fail before the couples tenth anniversary. That seems disheartening, doesnt it, especially if you are doing your best to make your relationship or marriage work. The simple truth is most relationships today just dont work. Thats probably not a surprise. You may have already been in at least one failed relationship or know someone who has been. In fact, how many people do you know who are still happily married to the same person after more than 25 years?. Today, even couples that have weathered 20-30 years of marriages are breaking up. Whats going wrong? Marriage therapists and researchers point to numerous reasons why marriages fail: -- poor communication, sexual incompatibility, parenting issues, children and in-law issues, inability to resolve conflict, poor money management, in-law issues, and the list goes on. While these are, in fact, contributing reasons for failed marriages; the therapists and researchers miss the point! Every failed relationship can be traced to one single cause -- the lack of intimacy. All marital relationships are established for only one reason -- to achieve intimacy. Without it, your marriage has absolutely no chance of succeeding; no matter how many books you read or counselors you see. GET A CLUE! No intimacy, no relationship -- its just that simple. Dr. Sara E. Stevenson, psychologist and relationship coach, and Rev. Donald W. Stevenson, attorney and former senior pastor, show you how you can create or enhance intimacy and have the relationship, and ultimately the marriage, or relationship you have always wanted.
