

CAPTAINS TUTOR: A Novel of Romance and War

Against the background of the Vietnam War, in a time before cougars and their younger men were fashionable, Captains Tutor intertwines two main characters: Foxdon Stuart, stationed in Orleans, France as an American army captain, who falls in love with a stunning French woman, Raymonde Kempfess. She is a woman of wealth and position, but who also is nearly twenty years older than Foxdon and separated from an abusive husband. Further complicating their involvement is Raymonde's angst over their age difference as well as her Catholic religion, which forbids their union due to her living husband. Captains Tutor takes the reader from the salons (and boudoirs) of fashionable Paris to the sweltry morass of Southeast Asia; from an idyll in Spain to the Intensive Care Unit of Tripler Army Hospital in Honolulu; from elegant country life in England to a blood-soaked ambush in the middle of monsoonal rain. Tenderly passionate romance and harsh battle tangle and weave as two lovers fight for their love.
