

Red, White, and Gold: Canada at the World Junior Championships 1974-1999

Red, White, and Gold is the first ever in-depth analysis of Canada's hockey teams at the World Junior Championships. It traces our teams' participation from the early years when the tournament was an invitational (1974-76), through the first official years when players such as Wayne Gretzky, Dino Ciccarelli, and Mike Gartner played for Canada, through to the recent years of Paul Kariya, Eric Lindros, and Jason Allison. The book examines the World Juniors chronologically, year by year, including a preview chapter to this year's 1999 championships in Winnipeg. It provides the most comprehensive anecdotal, factual, and statistical information ever compiled for the world's most prestigious junior tournament. In addition, each chapter is accompanied by rarely seen and never-before published photographs. Red, White, and Gold also includes a guide and record book for the World Juniors—the first of its kind. It includes information about all 386 players who have represented Canada over the years, and provides every team and individual record imaginable. Red, White, and Gold is an officially licensed product of both Canadian Hockey and the International Ice Hockey Federation.

My curiosity got the best of me the other day and I gave in by watching one of those "End of the World" conspiracies videos. This time around the date is set for July 29, 2016. So in three days the biblical prophecies will come true and we will be swallowed up by hell fire while the others who are "saved" will rejoice in the heavens.
