

Healthy Eating

The Quick Course series of books from the Oxford Centre for the Mind are designed raise your levels of mental performance by focusing on the fundamentals of what it means to use your mind effectively. Each course covers the essentials of its subject, providing practical advice and a number of exercises. The Quick Course series builds up into a complete mind and brain development course that will help you to achieve your full potential. Your body and brain are composed entirely from what you eat. All of your daily energy needs are derived from what you consume. Eat the right foods and you will feel full of energy and be able to get through the day easily. Eat the wrong foods and you will feel lethargic and unable to perform effectively.

The Oxford Centre for the Minds guide to Healthy Eating forms part of our Quick Courses series and will tell you all you need to know to ensure that you are getting the right nutrients. It will tell you what you need to function properly, show you how, how much and when to eat so that you obtain optimal nutrition from your food. It will show you what foods have a beneficial impact on your brain as well as what foods to avoid and help you construct your optimal diet.

My curiosity got the best of me the other day and I gave in by watching one of those "End of the World" conspiracies videos. This time around the date is set for July 29, 2016. So in three days the biblical prophecies will come true and we will be swallowed up by hell fire while the others who are "saved" will rejoice in the heavens.
