

The Wave Rider

In 1995 ajit balakrishnan is quietly experimenting with the new and fascinating technologies of the internet in 1995 when the dot com fever grips the world. Venture capitalists, investment bankers and lawyers pound at the doors of his tiny office in a low rent area of mumbai, urging him to take his company public on new yorks nasdaq stock market. Balakrishnan sets out on this enterprise, a path that takes him through the worlds financial centres of london, hamburg, new york, boston and san francisco. This story recounts how he battles adversaries many times his size, fends off avaricious lawyers who try to extort money through class action suits in the tough courts of lower manhattan, rebuffs investment bankers who try to engineer the sale of his company and tries to make sense of a world where technology and business models change every few months. He steers his company through the financial crashes of 2000 and 2008, watches in awe as terrorists bring down new yorks world trade centre towers, puzzles over the decline of once famous names such as aol and netscape and the rise of new behemoths like facebook and google, wrestles with indias legal system and pushes to bring rediff into the new world of the internet. Gradually, he realizes that the battles he is part of are not just business battles they signal the dawn of the information age.

My curiosity got the best of me the other day and I gave in by watching one of those "End of the World" conspiracies videos. This time around the date is set for July 29, 2016. So in three days the biblical prophecies will come true and we will be swallowed up by hell fire while the others who are "saved" will rejoice in the heavens.
