

Best for Babies: Expert Advice for Caregivers and Administrators in Assessing Infant-Toddler Programs

Winner of the National Parenting Publications Awards, and the Silver AAP Revere Awards. The evidence is clear: Children thrive and learn best when they experience tender, nurturing care. There's a dizzying array of checklists and evaluation tools on the market that measure almost every detail of the early childhood environment. But, as a director or caregiver, how do you know if the most important piece of exploration and learning within a loving, supportive relationship is a part of your program? In Best for Babies, Alice Sterling Honig shows you how to nurture the youngest children with:

- Nourishing interactions
- Social-emotional support
- Boosts for thinking and reasoning skill development
- Support for language development
- Appropriate matches between child and activity
- Opportunities for creative exploration and pretend play
- Positive behavior reinforcement
- Child-sensitive classroom pacing
- Safe choices and opportunities for autonomy
- A warm environment where children and families feel welcome

My curiosity got the best of me the other day and I gave in by watching one of those "End of the World" conspiracies videos. This time around the date is set for July 29, 2016. So in three days the biblical prophecies will come true and we will be swallowed up by hell fire while the others who are "saved" will rejoice in the heavens.
